TRAVELLER
FILTER CASE

The Irix team is made up of a lot of passionate photographers – that’s why we understand how important it is to be able to quickly snap a fleeting moment. Every minute shooting is a chance to capture an extraordinary shot. We know that the shooting process is not only about pressing the camera’s shutter button, but also about a series of preparations and appropriate technical solutions. Based on many years of experience and hundreds of hours spent on the road (with camera in hand), we’ve designed the Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case, which protects your filters, while still being quick and easy to use.

Our goals were obvious. The case needed to feature:

- Maximum filter protection during transport
- A slim and lightweight design
- A compact and mobile size
- Simple ease of use
- Convenient storage pockets

The Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case is compatible with all 100mm square filters, as well as with the Irix Edge IFH-100 filter holder.

This innovative case allows you to safely store the Irix Edge IFH-100 holder and two filters, plus one additional filter in a dedicated pocket.

Capture spectacular photos – Anytime, Anywhere

Every landscape photography lover knows that the most effective photos are usually taken at dawn or at sunset. It's these photos that will be remembered for a long time. Unfortunately, golden hour doesn't last long, and photographers only have a limited time to act to use the full potential of this magical opportunity. Due to its well thought-out design, the Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case is always at hand, and filters are ready for immediate use whenever there is sunlight!

Protect Your Filters No Matter Where You Are

in a quick, light, and safe way.

High-quality square glass filters are a considerable expense for any photographer, so it's important to protect them well. The Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case allows you to store your filters without any worries - the case is made from a durable and water-resistant material which is reinforced on its exterior. The interior is lined with a soft material that helps keep the lenses clean and clear.

Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case Features:

- Compatible with 100mm square filters
- Combines ease of use, mobility, and exceptional filter protection
- Can simultaneously hold the Irix Edge IFH-100 holder and three filters
- High-quality materials: water resistant zipper and exterior; rigid frame and filter-friendly interior material

These solutions result in the best protection for photo filters - against water, dust, and damage. With the Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case, your filters are always ready for use.

Discover the world of landscape photography, and journey with the Irix Edge Traveller Filter Case.
